Artist Statement

When my art teacher asked me if I wanted to reuse a canvas at school, I decided to take the opportunity. When I had to make a decision about what I wanted to paint, I was inspired by the many trips my family has taken to the beach. However, one trip stood out to me. It was a trip my family took to Cancun, Mexico. I wanted to paint a piece based on the sunsets I saw there. I wanted to make the piece a little more expressive and colorful, so I used some of my favorite tones of yellow, orange, red, and purple.
