Artist Statement

As an artist who has not been drawing very long I went through multiple art classes. As we went through different art I had tons of fun but no specific medium was standing out to me until we did a colored pencil drawing my freshman year of high school and I fell in love with the outcome of the colored pencils. For a couple years I did a few colored pencil drawings with some cheap Crayola colored pencils but they were not giving me the outcome I wanted and knew I could do. So this last fall I finally bought a set of professional colored pencils and was able to get some amazing results from them, this Common Redstart bird one of the first drawing I did with these pencils and I love how it turned out. It was so fun to create this drawing and see the final results when it was finished. I am so in love with the turnout with colored pencils I love the amazing color and vibrancy that they add to a drawing unlike many other mediums across art.
