Artist Statement

In the piece I have created I took inspiration from the characteristic /symbolization of crows and the meaning behind circles (used in the background) and the roses seen in the piece. I used Ink to draw out the crow and the roses and watercolor to fill in the circles. I decided to draw the crow because they symbolize wisdom, adaptability, destiny , after life and death. Roses are a symbol of love, grace, and admiration which I thought would work well with the crow because even though roses have almost an opposite meaning to crows they are both graceful and beautiful in there own way. Circles can symbolize birth and death and also timelessness, the crow would represent the death and afterlife part and the rose would represent the beautify within life and death. This piece took over 4 hours to fully complete and tried to put as much detail in as possible. I am very proud of how the results of my hard paid off and I hope you guys enjoy it.
